Nota No-Kill, but Better

No-Kill Minimum

According to community standards, no-kill shelters save 90% of animals though their programs and services.[1]

Working towards a Goal to ZERO homeless animals

84%

Of animals were placed through adoption, transport or return to owner in 2019

12% Euthanized in 2019

A diverse group of live release programs place animals with owners by encouraging traffic into the shelter, getting animals into the community, and investing in transport.

Most animals euthanized in 2019 had severe medical conditions or irreparable behavior issues

Since 2015

The number of animals saved for every animal euthanized increased

160% since 2015

6.7 to 1

Animals saved for every 1 euthanized.

